

'TOTAL WAR' BEGINS IN EUROPE TODAY

Germans Invade the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg

'PROTECTION' GIVEN AS AIM OF INVADERS

Nazis Allege Allies Had Planned Move on Ruhr Sector

Berlin, May 10—(AP)—Adolf Hitler has gone to the western front to assume personal direction of military operations, the German high command announced today.

The high command communique, issued daily, was dated this time from the "fuehrer's headquarters" and said:

"In view of the immediately impending extension of the war area by evening onto Belgian and Dutch territory and the threat to the Ruhr territory connected therewith, the German western army at daybreak May 10 started over the German western borders along the broadest front of attack.

"Simultaneously, the air force attacked an enemy airport with great success and strong units have taken a hand in land fighting in support of ground troops.

"To conduct general operations of the defense force, the fuehrer and supreme commander has gone to the front."

Hitler, duplicating his tactics with Norway and Denmark, demanded Belgium and Holland accept his "protection" of their neutrality without resistance.

Germany's Ruhr valley was threatened by an allied attack, he informed the governments of Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg through his foreign minister, and the Dutch and Belgian governments were conniving at it.

Wherefore, Germany was declared compelled to act to anticipate the blow.

Give Solemn Assurances

The German government solemnly assured Holland and Belgium that their territorial sovereignty would be restored to them, unchanged and that their overseas possessions would go untouched.

To Luxembourg likewise was assured territorial and political integrity.

The pre-condition to these assurances was that these countries accept Germany's "protection" without resistance.

Any resistance, German warned, will be broken resolutely.

The guilt for any bloodshed will fall on Britain and France, as well as the Belgian and Dutch governments.

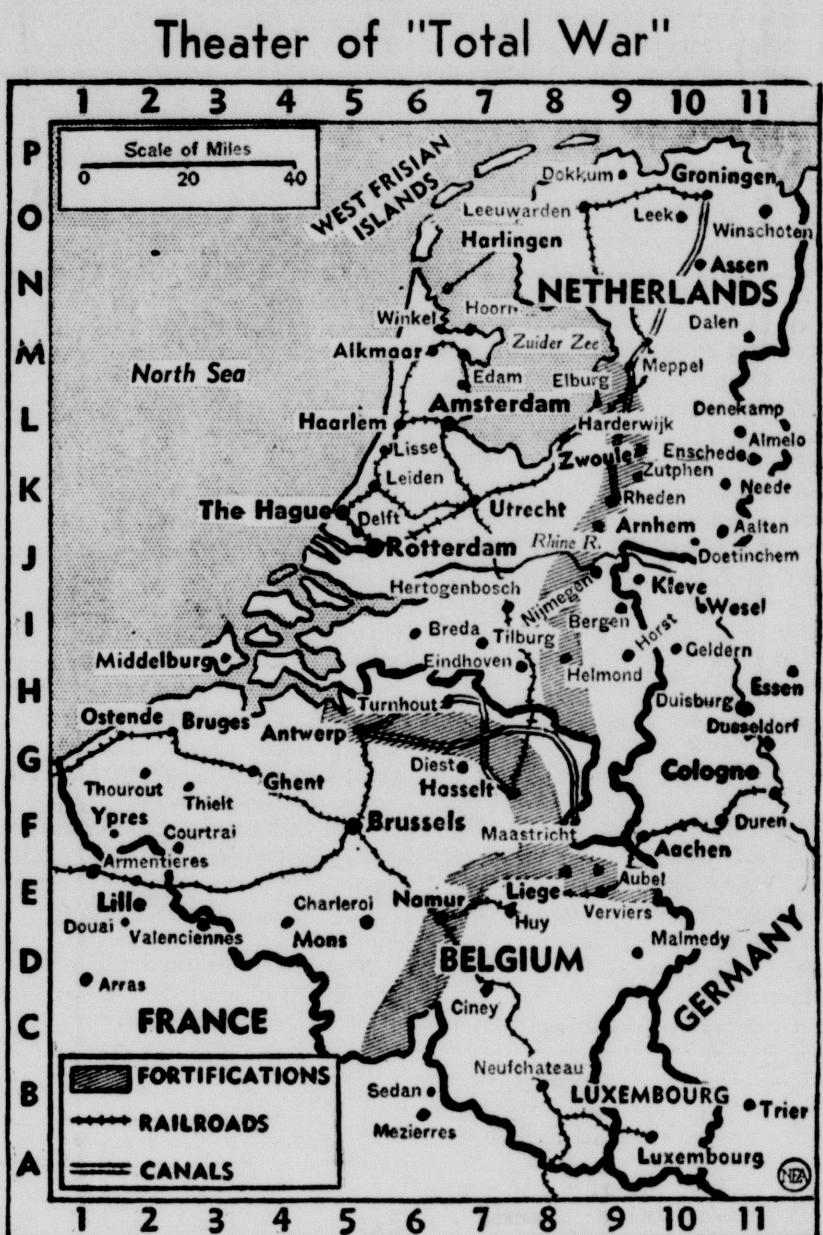

Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop summoned foreign press representatives to the foreign office for a 7 a. m. conference, but apparently his talks with the Belgian ambassador, Vicomte Jacques Davignon; the Netherlands Minister Jonkheer H. M. Van Haersma and the Luxembourg chargé d'affaires, Dr. Albert Wehrer—to whom the situation was imparted—took longer

President Roosevelt Sees No Change in Chances of U. S. Keeping Out of War

Washington, May 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he saw no change with respect to the possibilities of the United States keeping out of Europe's war.

At a press conference, he told reporters there was not much he could say about the situation abroad now and that it spoke for itself.

With reference to possible effects of Germany's invasion of Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg on this country, the president asserted a great many things were being studied. He did not give details.

But in response to a question, he said that a German pledge, at the outbreak of the current war, not to bomb "open," unfortified

Palsey - Stricken Physician Tries to End His Life

Despondency over ill health led Dr. Luther E. Goodyear, 76, to attempt suicide this morning at about 8:30 o'clock when he fired one shot from a 32 calibre automatic revolver into his body, missing his heart. Shreds of his clothing, which had caught in the gun in the first attempt, caused the weapon to jam when he tried a second time to end his life.

Chief J. D. VanBibber and Patrolman John Bohnstiel were summoned to the Miss Mary Goodyear residence, 816 Brinton avenue, by a local physician and apprised of the suicide attempt. The aged physician who saw overseas service with the aviation corps during the World War, is in a critical condition and slight hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Palsey Disturbed Aim

According to information gathered by the police officers, Dr. Goodyear has been in failing health for some time, and this morning took the revolver, went to the barn in the rear of his sister's home, and fired one bullet into his body.

He has been afflicted with palsy which disturbed his aim and the bullet entered the abdominal region instead of the heart as he had intended, the bullet tearing through his body and dropping on the cement driveway, where it was later recovered. Dr. Goodyear then walked next door to the home of his sis-

HOUSE GIVES IN ON PARITY FUND FOR AGRICULTURE

Action Again Draws the Attention of Congress to Finances Status

Washington, May 10.—(AP)—House capitulation to the senate assured farmers today of parity payments and other regular benefit checks next year, but again focused congressional attention on the status of federal finances.

The fiscal problem bobbed up when the house yesterday approved $212,000,000 for parity payments and an $85,000,000 increase in automatic appropriations of $100,000,000 for disposal of surplus farm crops, largely through use of the food stamp plan.

Those funds, already voted by the senate, boosted the total of the 1941 agriculture department supply bill to more than $900,000,000, plus $90,000,000 in RFC loans for farm tenants and the rural electrification administration.

As a result, most house members agreed that congress might have to raise the statutory federal debt limit of $45,000,000,000 or, in the waning days of a controversial session, push through a new tax bill.

May Avoid Issues

But one administration leader, who preferred anonymity, hinted that President Roosevelt might have several plans in mind to avoid both issues. No one was even considering the possibility that he might veto the big bill because it exceeded his budget recommendations of about $788,000,000.

A late-day controversy when tempers flared and sharp words were exchanged led to adjournment of the House last night before consideration of the bill was completed. It will not be taken up until next week.

Although the Senate was in recess, its special government reorganization committee scheduled additional hearings on Roosevelt's fourth reorganization program and a vote by 4 p. m. (3 p. m. C. S. T.).

The Senate yesterday voted 45 to 36 to end treasury purchases of foreign silver. House action, however, was uncertain.

Flach's Motion for Probation Continued by Judge Until May 17

Chicago, May 10.—(AP)—Judge Joseph A. Graber today postponed sentence of Rex Flach, 44, Ambly, Ill., on a manslaughter charge and continued a motion for probation until May 17.

The judge said he was "impressed by the attitude" of William Rudd, father of Virginia Rudd, 5, killed by Flach's automobile December 28. Rudd told the court:

"I'm not certain in my own mind that it was not an unavoidable accident, but whether or not it was, I don't think this man (Flach) should be sent to prison."

Flach, a former state highway policeman, was found guilty of manslaughter in a bench trial before Judge Graber May 3. His car jumped a curb, after colliding with another, and struck down the girl. The other driver, Harold Moberg, Des Moines, Iowa, who was exonerated testified Flach failed to head a stop sign, which Flach denied.

Most Gigantic Battle of All Time Imminent as Allies Rush Armies Into Invaded Countries to Meet Germans: Chamberlain Resigns His Post

Winston Churchill Is New Prime Minister of Britain

(By The Associated Press)

Hard-hitting Winston Churchill succeeded Neville Chamberlain as Britain's prime minister tonight as England braced herself to fight back at Adolf Hitler's triple blitzkrieg invasion of the little "low countries"—Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

The German high command and the Berlin radio boasted that Nazi invaders had broken resistance everywhere. The radio asserted that 100 enemy planes had been shot down in aerial conflict or bombed to bits.

By contrast, Belgium claimed that her gallant defenders had stopped the German onrush a few hundred yards inside the frontier.

The Dutch said that at least 70 German planes had been shot down, four armored trains destroyed, and that German parachute troops had been surrounded swiftly and captured.

The British government announced that "The Right Honorable Neville Chamberlain resigned the office of Prime Minister and First Lord of the Treasury this evening and the Right Honorable Winston Churchill accepted His Majesty's invitation to fill the position."

"The prime minister desires that all ministers should remain at their posts and discharge their functions with full freedom and responsibility while the necessary arrangements for the formation of a new administration are made."

Mother an American

Chamberlain, the apostle of appeasement who saw his policy fail and when war came expressed the hope he could carry on long enough to see Hitlerism destroyed, had been in office since May 28, 1937.

Churchill, whose mother was an American, has been First Lord of the Admiralty since the outbreak of the war, returning to the post he held during the World War. He is 65 years old.

Coincidentally, the French cabinet was re-organized.

Churchill was received in audience by King George VI. shortly after Prime Minister Chamberlain had been received.

The powerful Labor party previously had voiced a demand for "a new prime minister."

Adolf Hitler's triple blitzkrieg was apparently aimed at seizing a close base to attack England.

France, England, Bombed

Britain and France themselves were raided by the German air force in bombing forays over both countries.

The German high command tonight claimed "broken resistance" in all three sectors of the triple assault.

"Enemy opposition in the border area was broken everywhere in the first attack," a German communique said.

In Washington, President Roosevelt said he saw no change on the possibilities of the United States keeping out of the European conflict.

Belgium claimed to have "stopped the Germans everywhere."

Chamberlain drove to Buckingham palace early in the evening for an audience with King George VI after the labor party announced it would join the government "under a new prime minister."

The Belgian foreign ministry announced that the Nazi invaders had been stopped cold a few hundred yards inside the frontier. The German thrust, it was said, crumpled against the Belgian "demolition zone."

Allies To Defense

Allied troops went to the defense of the imperiled small nations, which are able to muster a combined military strength of 1,000,000 men.

Holland opened her flood-gates and dikes, blew up bridge and threw her army into action, holding the Germans near Arnhem (K9).

Nazi bombers blasted Antwerp

(H15) and Brussels (F5) and the French cities of Nancy, Lille (E2) and Calais, and Chiham, in England, also were bombed.

Berlin claimed tiny Luxembourg had been overrun in the early hours of the pre-dawn invasion and, shortly after 7 A. M., C. S. T., the Berlin radio asserted Nazi troops had occupied The Hague, the capital of The Netherlands.

However, dispatches received four hours later directly from Antwerp, 30 miles from The Hague, did not mention its fall.

A Paris military spokesman declared "the most gigantic battle of all time" appeared imminent.

England Fears Invasion

Holland officially announced her defense forces had shot down at least 70 German planes, blown up a German armored train and were offering "strong resistance."

In London, the ministry of home security issued a general warning to all England to "be prepared."

Presumably for a land invasion of the British isles by Germany.

At Doorn, Holland, the aged Kaiser Wilhelm clung to his haven while the troops he once commanded poured into his host country.

Nazi parachute invaders rained down in the darkness, striking at vital airports and strategic centers, while the German land steam-roller rumbled across the three frontiers.

General Maurice Gustave Gamelin, commander-in-chief of the French and British armies, declared Germany has begun "a fight to death against us."

Wilhelmina Protests

Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands issued a "flaming protest" against the invasion, and spurred her troops into a last-ditch defense.

Balkan capitals viewed the German thrust in western Europe as a "reprieve" to the Mediterranean area.

With Nazi planes striking from the heart of England and France in a series of lightning bombing raids, the French and British announced they would retaliate if Germany attempted to bomb civilian centers of population.

World eyes turned anxiously toward Italy, expecting that this might be the moment for Premier Mussolini to take the jump off the neutrality fence. But for the moment, at least, Italy remained aloof from the fast-spreading conflict.

Switzerland, the last little neutral country bordering Germany in western Europe, ordered general mobilization and a precautionary "state of war."

Cross at Four Points

The Brussels radio announced German grey-green clad troops had poured across the Belgian front at four points.

German troops parachuted from huge transports, attacking vital airports and rail heads.

Scores of cities and towns were blasted from the air by the Nazi raiders. Hundreds were reported killed and wounded.

German parachute troops occupied Rotterdam's (J5) Waalhaven airport, after first leveling it with a tremendous aerial bombardment; alighted on the Nieuwe Maas river in the center of Rotterdam, occupied a big bridge across the river and captured the Maas railway station in the city.

The War Today!

By DWIGHT MACKENZIE

This is the great German blitzkrieg at last.

Hitler has spun the wheel for his supreme gamble, and it shouldn't be long now before we know who is going to win the war.

The Nazi fuehrer himself has said it. In an order of the day to his army, just before his bombs began to fall on sleeping peoples and his troops were rained by ghostly parachutes from the blackness of the pre-dawn sky, he cried:

"The hour has come!"

Dramatically, he added that the fighting beginning today "decides the fate of the German nation for the next 1,000 years."

That in its essence is true, for this blitzkrieg is a titanic effort to smash the allied strangulation-blockade and rend England and France.

If it succeeds, Hitler will dominate Europe. If it fails, he will return to the oblivion from which he rose so short a time ago and his fatherland will pay the price of defeat.

That was an epic line in which the Belgian ambassador to England, Baron Cartier answered Hitler's challenge:

"They shall not pass this time!"

My throat tightened when I read that, for often in the darkest days of the World War when German hordes were invading his country I discussed the future with this grand patriot. And ever did he fail in his faith that the allies would triumph.

The blow which Hitler has struck today is logical strategy from his standpoint. It is a successful blitzkrieg or probable defeat.

The reich cannot endure a long war, for the allied blockade has raised havoc with Germany's vital imports. Hitler must have access to the sea.

The Nazi chieftain is in the position of being unable to stand a lengthy war, either of action or inaction.

Action such as he is undertaking at this moment is burning up his reserves at a tremendous rate. He must win before they are exhausted. A war of attrition most certainly would find him garroted by that ever-tightening line of Brussels, May 10.—(AP)—The German land forces have been stopped within a few hundred yards of the frontier after entering Belgium as part of Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg against the low countries, the foreign ministry announced today.

Defense Minister General Henri Denis told the chamber of deputies that, at noon, the Germans were halted everywhere on the Belgian defensive lines. He said he was "convinced the Germans failed to obtain their first objective and failed to gain the initial success they expected."

Premier Hubert Pierlot told the house that King Leopold III had expected to make an address, but had taken his place as commander-in-chief with the army in the front lines.

King Takes Command

Belgium met the invasion by full mobilization. Her king assumed command of the nation's forces, as his father, Albert, did more than 25 years ago.

French and British liaison officers reached Brussels for contacts with the Belgian general staff six hours after Belgium had asked her old allies of 1914 for aid against the new German invasion.

Brussels (F5) was bombed this morning and had three air-raid alarms in the early afternoon.

While the first wave of Nazi bombers took a toll of at least seven killed and 80 wounded throughout the country, the foreign ministry said the German land forces had been stopped no more than a few hundred yards over the Belgian frontier.

They were halted by Belgian troops entrenched behind the "demolition line," a first defense area of destroyed bridges and roads and other barriers.

King Leopold ordered complete mobilization and took active command of all the armed forces.

Belgians Defiant

At the same time Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak, in a note to the German ambassador, announced "Belgium will defend herself with all means x x x and can not be vanquished."

Two children were killed and 50 persons wounded in an air-raid on Brussels. The Brussels airport also was bombed.

Bombs fell on numerous railway stations in the heart of the country.

King Leopold III, taking active command of the armed forces as his father, King Albert, did in 1914, ordered complete mobilization against the invaders and appealed to the allies for help.

Both Britain and France promised quick aid against the German

Allies Have Ordered 2,000 or More War Planes in U. S. in Past Few Days

Washington, May 10.—(AP)—The Aviation authorities said today that the British and French governments had ordered 2,000 or more additional American-made warplanes in the past few days.

The new contracts, for the latest-type fighting planes and bombers developed for the United States Army Air Corps, were said to have boosted the allies' purchase within the past month to 4,000 or more military aircraft.

At the same time, it was disclosed that the war department intends to recommend to President Roosevelt that Congress be asked for funds immediately to build 200 long-range, four-motor bombers to reinforce western hemisphere defenses.

The additional bombers would be a part of the 5,000-plane quota

DARING SENTIMENT
Sofia—(AP)—Bulgaria's censors were censured by new premier Bogdan Philoff for "stifling the expression of our people's thoughts."

In his first speech to parliament, he declared newspapermen and authors should be freed from government restrictions. Philoff, an archeologist until he entered politics two years ago, is himself a prolific writer — on scientific subjects.

DIXON WOMAN'S CLUB WINS RECOGNITION AT DISTRICT MEETING AT MILLEDGEVILLE

Announcement that their club's scrapbook had been awarded the blue ribbon in a district-wide contest climaxed an afternoon brimming with honors for members of the Dixon Woman's club at the forty-second annual convention of the Thirteenth District Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, convening yesterday at the Brethren church in Milledgeville. Delegates, alternates and visitors numbering 255 and representing the six counties comprising the Federation—Lee, Carroll, Ogle, Jo Daviess, Whiteside, and Stephenson—turned out for the one-day session.

Three women who head departments of the Illinois Federation appeared on the day's program, which was concluded with announcement of awards in the scrapbook contest by Mrs. Kenneth Whitney of Chadwick, district press and publicity chairman. Mrs. E. V. Mellott, corresponding secretary of the Dixon club, compiled the prize-winning book submitted by clubs with membership numbering between 200 and 350. The Polo Woman's club of Ogle county won second honors in the same division.

Elect Mrs. Nangle

Mrs. Frank Nangle of Paw Paw, retiring head of the Lee County Federation, was elected second vice-president of the District Federation. Mrs. Hugh Allen of Mt. Morris was elected president for a two-year term last year, and her other co-officers for 1940, named yesterday, include: First vice-president, Mrs. Frank Keck, Freeport; secretary, Mrs. Richard Townsend, Stockton; treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Knowl, Milledgeville. Mrs. A. R. Dry, retiring parliamentarian, was appointed to serve as vice president for the northern region of the Illinois Federation.

Mrs. Ray B. Polhill, president of the Milledgeville Woman's club, welcomed the visitors, with Mrs. Allen responding. In her report for the past year, Mrs. Allen told her listeners the present membership of the District Federation totals 3,859 women, a growth of 400 members since 1939.

Mrs. Alton G. Hall, state chairman of international relations was the principal speaker for the morning session. She presented a resume of world conditions leading up to the present European crisis, and reminded the clubwomen: "We can still look to South America with joy, and can see nothing in the future to disturb the good relations we have had with her." "We can do more for the well being of the world," she believes, "by helping to keep America at peace than in any other way."

Special Music

The remainder of the morning's program was carried out as announced in these columns earlier in the week, and was concluded with a delightful recital of piano, organ and trumpet selections by the Rev. W. St. Claire Benshoff and John Hinners of Milledgeville. Luncheon was served at the Brethren, Lutheran and Methodist churches. Afterward, the delegates reassembled at the Brethren church for the afternoon program, which opened with group singing of "God Bless America," led by Mrs. O. H. Rahn, district music chairman.

Names of Mrs. Clyda Kaylor and Mrs. Lisette Drach, deceased members of the Dixon club, were read during an impressive memorial tribute read by Mrs. R. S. Johnston of Chana, the retiring second vice-president. Mrs. Hubert White and Mrs. Fahney of the Polo club concluded the memorial service with a vocal duet, "Hark, Hark, My Soul."

Mrs. William G. Suthers, state chairman of legislation, reviewed the progress in her department, and reminded the delegates: "Since

Nearly 60 Rural Students Receive Diplomas, Here

Nearly 60 eighth grade graduates representing 26 rural schools in the vicinity of Dixon participated in Commencement exercises which attracted hundreds of parents and friends to the Dixon high school auditorium last evening to watch the class members receive diplomas.

"What are you Worth?" was the challenging question put to the graduates by the commencement speaker, Professor A. T. Scoville of Sterling. "Every day, we set the price of what we are worth to ourselves, our community and our country," the speaker reminded his audience.

Need Education

"Nothing we buy and pay money for will be needed as much as an education," Professor Scoville believes. He warned against four errors—commission, omission, neglect, and short-cuts—which would detract from the graduates' worth, emphasizing in particular the harm resulting in short-cuts in religion, health, truth, courtesy and thinking, as well as education.

While presenting the diplomas, John A. Torrens, superintendent of Lee county schools, referred to the documents as "keys which will open the doors to high school, college and worthwhile things in your future life."

Special music was presented by a string ensemble composed of Mary Louise Smith, Robert Tennant, Donald Kieffer, Bill Haefliger, and Kenneth Hecker, accompanied by Marilee Burns. Orville Westgor directed the musicians, who played a march during the procession of students and teachers to the platform.

The remainder of the program included: Invocation, the Rev. Herbert J. Doran; vocal solos, Mrs. I. B. Potter; readings, "Columbine" and "Betty at the Baseball Game," Mrs. J. V. Ridolph; benediction, Mr. Doran; recessional, string ensemble.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Swedes Between Two Fires

If the British are able to establish a firm position at Narvik, in northern Norway, they will need a great deal of restraint to prevent them from going after the Swedish ore region. In the midst of the fust and feathers arising from German and allied attempts to "defend" Norway, one must not forget that all the battles are fought over Swedish iron ore. Except as their own interests are involved, neither the Germans nor allies care two whoops in a rain-barrel about Norway's neutrality or independence.

A railway runs from the Swedish ore region to Narvik. Where a railway runs, troops may march. If the British can see their way clear to do so, they might be tempted to march into Sweden and seize the mines, which would be disastrous to Germany.

Of course this would be a violation of Swedish neutrality, for the Swedes theoretically have the right to sell iron ore to the nazis if they so desire. It is easier for them to decide to sell ore to the nazis because they probably figure that if they don't sell the ore, the Germans will take it by force. But judging by the geographical location of Sweden, one believes the Swedes would be shot up less if they didn't have any defenders at all.

Sweden's excellent iron ore is coveted by the British as well as by the Germans. If the British are able to control Narvik, they can cut off Germany's winter route from the Swedish ore district to nazi ports. But if Germany should march into Sweden from the east and seize the mines, then the allies would be left holding the bag at Narvik.

Therefore it is highly desirable, from a military standpoint, for both the nazis and allies to "protect" Sweden. We imagine that the nazis are watching intently for any allied move from Narvik toward the iron mines. That would touch off the powder magazine.

Never was a country in such danger of "protection" as Sweden, and none ever desired it less.

SERIAL STORY

BET ON LOVE

BY CHARLES B. PARMER

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: The Derby Trial brings Pepper Boy a real test against two good horses. Watching the race with Paul Sherry, one who gave his horse a great ride, Madson challenges in the stretch; Castanets comes up, and the three horses finish under the wire, neck and neck.

CHAPTER XIV

"DID I win?" Sherry turned an anxious face to Wharton.

He was frowning. "I think—look, it's a photo finish—the light is flashing." He indicated the board. "We'll know in a minute." He became calm, judicial. "You had the best horse, Sherry, but he carried too much lead in the pad. Madden's a great little rider, but he's too light. You ought to ride a heavier boy in the Derby—one nearer the weight for that race; 126 pounds."

His words were lost in the wild shouts that rose from thousands who had bet on the favorite.

Sherry sat up stiffly; tried to keep her lips from trembling. The numbers were going up:

The winner: No. 1, Monitor. Second: No. 3, Castanets.

Third: No. 10, Pepper Boy.

"It took a picture to separate you from the winner," Wharton tried to console her. "Wasn't more than a nose win."

"Nose ahead good as a mile ahead," Sherry said.

Another shout from the crowd, this time a roar of admiration. A new track record had been set!

Wharton whistled, seized her arm. "Know what that means?" he asked. "The old record was beaten a full second. And since a horse travels 50 feet in a second, and since your colt was only about two inches behind the winner—why, your colt cracked the record, too! You've got a fine property, Sherry."

"See you later, Paul," she said, managing a bright smile, "and thanks for the box seat."

He caught her arm, and drew her close as they stood there by the box railing. "You're a game one, Sherry," he said, his gray eyes looking deep into her blue ones. "and you know how I feel about you—"

"Stop it, stop it!" she said, smiling and then looking away. "From now on, till the Derby's run, behold the hardboiled racing woman. If anything so sentimental as a rose petal floats across my path-way before that time, I shall crush it. Tell me after the Derby, Paul!" She laughed and before Wharton could stop her she was out of his box and down the steps. He saw her meet Sherry Grant after the latter weighed out. Saw the rider take her arm—walk with her toward the jockey room. Paul swore softly.

SHERRY had gone straight to Grant, as though there had been no coldness between them a few minutes earlier. Her first words were, "A great ride, Sherry—a beauty. Congratulations!"

He was embarrassed. "Er—er—thanks, Sherry."

She smiled and looked at him. "Sherry! Taking her arm, he started in the direction of the jockey room. "Don't mind telling you, Pepper Boy is a good horse."

"You mean it, Sherry?"

"I do. He would have beaten both Monitor and Castanets, except he broke from the far outside, had to run further than any horse in the race. If he'd drawn number one, or three, or four—"

"Then he's really good, Sherry?"

"You bet he is. He was the best colt in the race," he assured her. "Madden carried a lot of dead weight—to make up 120 pounds."

"If you'd had a 120-pound boy riding," Grant interrupted, "you'd have won going away—even if you did start from the outside. Live weight is much easier for a horse to carry."

"You mean you could have won with him, Sherry?" she asked.

He shrugged, was embarrassed again. "Post-mortems don't get us anywhere, you know."

AS Sherry reached her own balcony she found Sam leading the heavily-blanketed Pepper Boy around a cooling-out ring, while Elijah, the exercise boy, stood by enviously.

"Did he come out of the race unhurt, Sam?"

"One minute, please, Miss Sherry," he answered, and called to the boy. "You Lijah! Take this here halter, lead him steady-like—and don't stop till I tell you."

He surrendered the halter to his mistress. "Miss Sherry, he come out of that race sound as a new dollar—an' he didn't draw a hard breath. He's ready to go a mile an' a quarter, Derby distance, Miss Sherry. But—but—" he hesitated, as if afraid to speak what was on his mind.

"Go on, Sam. What did you start to say?"

"Miss Sherry, ain't none o' my business—but you ain't a' goin' to sell him, is you?"

Hiding Behind Generalities

There is a great debate going on in the country today—Isolation vs. Internationalism.

The more highly intellectual a writer is, the more emphatically he goes to bat for one side or another.

And yet this is largely shadow-boxing. For this rousing debate, with its two glittering generalities of "Isolation" and "Internationalism" has a great deal of unreality about it.

There is no such thing as "isolationism", pure and simple; there is no such thing as "internationalism", complete and 100 per cent. There are only combinations of the two, leaning first one way, then another. There are only practical courses of action to be chosen in specific circumstances.

No one can seriously maintain, for instance, that the present position of the United States in the world is either completely "isolationist" or "internationalist". It is true that the people have clearly indicated their fervent desire that the United States shall not become a full-fledged belligerent in the war now racking Europe.

But that does not imply that it is "isolationist". We take full part in Pan American affairs, joining with the other 20 American republics in the effort to regulate our common interests by peaceful and voluntary co-operation. Is this isolation?

Every conceivable facility which can properly be extended to the British and French governments has been freely given them. Every opportunity to apply American pressure to prevent extension of the war has been seized. Is this isolation?

Yet the United States, ever since it rejected the League of Nations after the World War, has never ceased to make it clear that it would not take an equal part with European nations in regulating European affairs.

Discussion seeking that the United States declare whole-hog for "isolation" or "internationalism" is pointless. We shall, as a matter of fact, declare for neither. We shall continue to do from day to day what seems best to be done in the face of the day's developments and their effect on our present, their probable effect on our future.

Have Women Failed?

Miss Lillie E. Stearns, Wisconsin feminist leader who campaigned for many years on behalf of votes for women, now surveys the results of twenty years of votes for women and announces that she wasted her time.

Miss Stearns is following the path of many idealists who have a preconceived notion of what their reforms will do and are disappointed if the results are different. Before women began enjoying equal suffrage we were informed that votes for women would clean up politics; would elect a higher type of candidates and put an end to graft.

The reform failed utterly in those specifications. Politics still need cleaning; we still need a higher type of office holders on the average, and we still have graft.

But the big thing Miss Stearns overlooks is that women have the ballot. They have been forced to obey the laws for centuries, so they now have a chance to help elect the representatives who make the laws. The fact that politics still is imperfect means only that women, like men, are subject to human foibles.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, May 9—A new deal Bible on business and prices has come off the government presses without much more than an acknowledgement notice from the political reviewers. It is the 76-page decision of the Supreme court in the Madison oil cases which opens a wide new field for the government to get at business groups and lay its hand firmly upon prices. This fresh legal Genesis is so technical its furthest scope will only be understood generally weeks or months hence, but already the big hand here is reaching out in its wake.

Efficient Trustbuster Thurman Arnold, the assistant attorney general, is, for instance, looking quietly into the fresh tobacco field, as well as foods.

Anti-trust suits against the four large tobacco companies may be instituted, in a case rivaling in importance the Arnold trust-crunching campaigns against building trades, the movies, labor and the medical association. The big four companies control the major cigarette output in a way which may be legally classified by the justice department as restraint of trade.

Anthrax price protectives sponsored in Pennsylvania may be one of the immediate victims of the new court commandments. Steel could be, but this and other acts of legal aggression will wait their turn.

The court decision made new law. It said in effect that any semblance of business price-fixing is illegal, regardless of its wisdom, economic effect, or jurisdiction. You would not have to fix prices to violate this new court made law. The mere fact that you created an opportunity to prevent cut-throat underselling which would cause unemployment and economic demoralization of your industry would make you guilty.

This anti-trust campaign is no longer a simple movement of the government to get after big concerns combining to charge high prices. It is not now a consumer protective only. It has become a punitive and economic club of ever-growing government authority to be wielded by political appointees in an ever-widening swath. It puts business under political thumbs. It can be used against low prices as well as high, and now under this new decision might be wielded against no prices at all, in a case of implied conspiracy.

The decision held that oil concerns cannot group even to stop "hot oil", but a mile away from the court which handed down the decision, the government itself was grouping bituminous coal dealers of a competitive industry for precisely the same purpose. What is good and right and noble for coal, under government direction, is dastardly and criminal for fuel oil, under private initiative. It means simply that if you want to violate the anti-trust laws you must get a dispensation from the government.

While the ultimate scope of the new Bible is beyond current vision, right straight up in front of your eye as big as a house is the fact that the government was thereby granted power, power, and more power.

The decision also revealed the extent to which the new deal has taken control of the court. This is now the only branch of the government in which the reform group has full sway, a control which will be unchallenged as long as the young men live whom Roosevelt has lately appointed to the court, which may be long after most of us are dead.

In congress a restraining opposition has thwarted further reform tactics, and the executive branch has been operating for some time under the restraint of critical opinion, but both restraints are absent in the still marching third branch of the government.

American Red Cross Launches $10,000,000 War Relief Campaign

Washington, May 10—(AP)—A $10,000,000 war relief drive was announced today by the American Red Cross.

Chairman Norman H. Davis said that the expansion of the European war into Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg meant that large relief funds would be required if the Red Cross were to mitigate the suffering.

Reporting that authorization for the drive was voted by the Red Cross convention meeting here earlier this week, Davis said:

"The hour has struck, with a threat of ensuing suffering and horror to be endured by women and children, and the aged, such as the human mind never has conceived."

"I urge all sympathetic Americans to respond quickly and generously to this appeal by making immediate contributions to their local Red Cross chapters."

He said each of the 3,700 Red Cross chapters had been advised of its quota of the $10,000,000 to be raised.

Bob Feller Keeps Knocking for No-Hit Door to Open Again

LEIBER GETTING EVEN WITH BALL WITH VENGEANCE

Once Most Discouraged Man in Baseball He is Shining Star

Chicago, May 10—(AP)—Hank Leiber is getting even with the baseball that once almost knocked him out of the game for life.

The big Chicago Cub's outfielder, seriously injured three years ago when hit in the head with a pitched ball, is hitting with such vengeance that today he is the No. 1 slugger of the National League.

For three years the most discouraged man in baseball, Leiber, a blond giant, is serving notice that he is ready to take up where he left off in 1936, when he was tabbed as one of the games' brightest prospects.

Now 28 years old Leiber has a batting average of .392 built on 29 hits in 74 trips to the plate through 19 games. Until Taft Wright of Chicago's White Sox went ahead of him yesterday it was the best performance in the major leagues. Wright has an even .400 average, a mark Leiber held until he collected but one hit in four tries yesterday.

Leiber also leads the National League in doubles (7), hits (29), runs (15) and is second to Ernie Lombardi of Cincinnati for the most runs driven in, Lombardi has 16, Leiber 15.

Feller Felled Him

Bob Feller hit Leiber in the head with a fast ball in an exhibition game between Cleveland and the New York Giants. For 12 weeks Leiber was flat on his back.

"I weighed 235 pounds when I left the hospital," Leiber recalled. "I was fat and as weak as a cat. I actually cried when I first got up and tried to walk. I had to learn all over again. The doctors said it would be three or four years before I would fully recover from the injury. It's been three years, maybe I'm due."

Hank played 51 games in 1937 and 98 in 1938 before the Giants traded him to the Cubs the following winter. Last season he appeared in 112 games, but suffered from leg trouble.

So he decided to get himself into tip-top shape last winter.

Eddie Rogers, one-time lightweight fighter and now manager of the Arizona Athletic Club in Leiber's native Phoenix told Leiber he could get him into condition.

Starting January 1, Rogers began coming by for Leiber at 7 A. M. each day. They would drive a few miles into the country, park the car and begin running. This continued until March.

"And I mean we ran," declared Leiber. "Three, four, five miles a morning. It was murder at first. But it worked. It not only brought my weight down to 200 where it belongs but it built up my legs. Last year I weighed between 220 and 225 all season."

Opening Day at Dixon Country Club Success in Spite of Weather

Neither the slightly inclement weather nor Herr Hitler's latest Blitzkrieg prevented the men from enjoying the opening day festivities at the Dixon Country Club yesterday. Approximately five-score golfers turned out for the day's events, which included golfing, dining, musical entertainment, movies and other typical stag activities. In the golfing department, J. Wagner won blind bogey honors by getting a net 78. He shot an 88 with handicap. Ed Jones and D. Berry were tied for second honors. Seven lads were jam-packed into a deadlock for third place as follows: Hal Mateer, Johnny Mills, Dr. Lazier, Victor Eichler, Floyd Smith, Harry Badger, Lyle Myers.

After the sumptuous banquet served by "Bonnie Annie" Foster and her aides, the lads were treated to the movie of last year's National Open held at Glenview. In the hole-in-one account the thrills of each putt were revived for the audience. Also shown was an old-fashioned slap-stick comedy showing how Charley Chase wowed 'em back in the silent era.

One of the most pleasant surprises of the evening was the accomplished young accordion-player who supplied the musical theme. This lad, Jack Dorneden of De Kalb, played and sang old favorites and new and led group singing in a versatile fashion.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Bob Feller, Indians—Shut out Yanks on three hits, holding them without a safety for six innings. Dolph Camilli, Dodgers—Tripled to score Brooklyn's first run against Cubs and singled home first of three runs that won game in 10th.

Stu Martin, Cardinals—Made fourth home run in three days as St. Louis stopped Phillies, 8-4. Jimmy Bloodworth and Gee Walker, Senators—Former hit three-run homer and latter knocked four singles in routing White Sox, 8-4.

John Peacock and Jimmie Fox, Red Sox—Former singled with the bases loaded in 10th and latter tripled with bases loaded in fifth against Tigers.

Bob Harris, Browns—Scattered seven hits in beating Athletics, 4-2.

Carl Hubbell, Giants—Held the Pirates to two hits for six innings until New York, piled up insurmountable lead.

Bucky Walters, Reds—Chalked up fifth victory without defeat on five-hit pitching against Bees.

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Feller is just the kind of a feller who's liable to keep rapping at that no-hit door long enough for it to open again.

He barely was sidetracked yesterday as he shut out the New York Yankees for Cleveland, 4-0, on three hits. He didn't give a safety until the seventh inning, when with one out Joe Di Maggio finally banged a single off short-stop Lou Boudreau's glove.

After that the tension was off and the 21-year-old speedster let out a single in the eighth and another in the ninth.

The defeat he slapped on the world champions was their sixth straight.

There were other good pitching shows yesterday—and some that even the Greeks wouldn't have a word for.

Other Good Pitching

One of the best was Bucky Walters' five-hit job on the Boston Bees in the course of a 4-1 victory for the Cincinnati Reds. It was the fifth triumph without a setback for Walters.

Tex Carleton making his first start since hurling a no-hitter April 30, locked in a dramatic duel with Larry French that went to 10 innings before the Brooklyn Dodgers broke through for a 4-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Newell Kimball got credit for the decision, however, because Carleton was removed for a pinch-hitter in the ninth.

Horrible Bottom

The horrible bottom in pitching was reached at Pittsburgh as the Pirates lost their ninth consecutive game by a 17-6 score to the New York Giants. Frenzied Frankie Frisch used five flingers who gave up 15 hits, 10 bases on balls and hit three batsmen. The rest of the Pirates did their duty by making seven errors.

A St. Louis rookie Ernie White, came through with a good relief chore for the Cardinals, pitching seven scoreless innings as the Redbirds overpowered the Phillies, 8-4.

The Detroit Tigers came from behind to tie the game with the Boston Red Sox at five-all in the seventh and then Herb Hash shut them out until the tenth when Johnny Peacock singled with the bases loaded for a 6-5 verdict.

Jimmie Fox had tripled with the sacks filled in the fourth to put the Red Soxers in the lead in the first place.

Dutch Leonard a 20-game winner of a year ago who has had a tough time getting started this spring, triumphed over the hapless Chicago White Sox, 8-4, with the help of some heavy hitting by his Washington teammates.

Bob Harris scattered seven hits and the Browns took advantage of the wildness of Johnny Babich, previously unbeaten, to crack down on the Philadelphia Athletics 4-2.

Frisch Says Bucs Will Not Stay in Loop Cellar Long

Pittsburgh, May 10(AP)—

Gloomy from a string of nine straight defeats, topped off by a 17-6 lacing yesterday at the hands of the Giants, Manager Frankie Frisch led the Pittsburgh Pirates to Chicago today expressing conviction they will not remain anchored in the National league cellar.

"We've got plenty of time to make up for those defeats," said the fiery old Fordham Flash, hoping the series with the Cubs may change his luck. "But in the meantime I may hire myself a bodyguard. I'm afraid I'm liable to do something desperate."

Frisch believes he has accomplished some things since he took over command of the Buccaneers. "I've learned who can play ball and who can't," he said. "We've got good men on the club and one of these days you will wonder how we ever lost nine straight. Remember, the team dropped eight straight last year after winning the opening game."

The Flash said he doesn't believe his players are thinking. He recalled walking to the box recently and telling a pitcher just how to throw to a certain batter. "But he didn't do it and we lost that game," he said.

Another source of trouble has been the pitching. In only three of 15 games has a starting pitcher finished.

Dan Cahill, Famous as Cub Fan, Dies Suddenly

Chicago, May 10—(AP)—Daniel Cahill, 64, won't be with the Chicago Cubs when the team gathers on Catalina island next year for spring training.

Cahill, who for more than 25 years accompanied the Cubs on their annual spring jaunt, died last night of a heart ailment.

It was tragic irony that Cahill should die while attending a farewell party for a retiring fireman, because in addition to his Cub enthusiasm, Cahill also laid claim to being Chicago's No. 1 "fire fan".

An innkeeper squad worked for 20 minutes in a vain effort to revive Cahill. He was a bachelor.

Chicago, May 10—(AP)—Caton Cobb, a freshman at the University of Illinois may supply the surprise element in the National A. A. U. gymnastic meet opening at the University of Chicago tomorrow.

Unheralded and making his first bow in big time competition, Cobb, nevertheless is regarded by some observers as capable of endangering the supremacy of George Wheeler, former Pitt star now considered the nation's No. 1 gymnast. Cobb will compete unattached.

Wheeler won five of the national individual titles last year and will be back to defend his laurels. Joe Giallombardo Illinois captain also competing unattached, will defend his tumbling crown and Joseph Goldenberg, Indiana graduate student, his flying rings title.

Yankees May Send Out SOS to Oakland Friends

San Francisco, May 10—(AP)—

Baseball men out this way wouldn't be surprised if the proud New York Yankees, floundering in the American League cellar, appeal for help any time now from an old friend, the Oakland club.

The reason is muscular Mike Christoff, the outfielder who found his batting eye and a new lease on baseball life practically overnight.

The Yankees are still desperately in need of right handed hitting strength, despite the return to the lineup of Joe DiMaggio.

Christoff may be the answer to a problem that has the Yankees flattened out on their backs. The six foot, 195-pounder is hammering the horsehide at an approximate .435 clip. He's a power hitter, specializing in line drives.

ANGELS DROP LILLARD

Los Angeles, May 10—(AP)—

Gene Lillard, right hand pitcher, today was turned back by the Los Angeles club to the St. Louis Cardinals, who optioned him to the Angels this spring. It was presumed St. Louis would farm him to Rochester or Columbus.

Ambers Choice Over Lew Jenkins Tonight

New York, May 10—(AP)—

It having become customary to crown a new lightweight champion of the each week on Friday, Lou Ambers and Lew Jenkins will hook up tonight at Madison Square Garden in a 15-rounder that promises to be fully as entertaining as any 135-pound title bout held in recent weeks.

In this one, Ambers will be defending his crown (New York variety) against a lean, hard-hitting young wolf from Texas, who probably has been seriously over-matched.

In last week's feature at Louisville, Sammy Angott captured the National Boxing Association's lightweight belt by outscoring Davey Day.

Ambers is the normal choice to beat Jenkins.

Grain Markets Scenes of Frantic Activities

Chicago, May 10—(AP)—North American grain markets, where the world's trade in cereals is centered now that war has closed Europe's exchanges, were scenes today of frantic buying and selling operations in the wake of the German westward attack.

The war market in Chicago's excited trading pits produced an immediate wheat price rise of five cents a bushel while corn shot up 2 1/2 cents and rye almost three cents. Corn values were the highest in almost three years. Wheat sold as high as $1.10 a bushel for September delivery and corn was as high as 70 cents.

At Buenos Aires, however, wheat values took the opposite direction, slumping almost five cents and rallying partially later. Prices were slightly above 70 cents. Although the reason for the action at Buenos Aires remained obscure, trade experts here expressed belief it may have been due to prospects that involvement of the lowland countries in the war may mean loss of a market for Argentine grain.

Chicago Police Kill Young Robber, Catch Companion Under Bed

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, May 10—Police shot and killed a young robber today and captured his companion several hours later after tracing a long chain of clues.

Thomas E. Mayo, 22, formerly of Quinn, Mo., was slain by Police Officer Robert Anderson as Mayo and Theodore Billik, 26, were fleeing after the holdup of a pedestrian. Billik escaped but was found later hiding under a bed in his room.

Detective Peter Harlib said Billik readily admitted he had been with Mayo during three robberies last night in which they took a few dollars and jewelry. The night before they committed seven robberies, Harlib said Billik confessed.

Boy and Girl Killed in Truck-Auto Crash

Carlyle, Ill., May 10—(AP)—Miss Nora Meier of Carlyle, 19, and Walter Tyberend of nearby Hoffman, 17, were dead today and two others were in a Breeze hospital as the result of a head-on collision of an automobile and a truck on route 50 west of Breeze last night.

The injured were William Taylor of Beckenmeier and Ralph Miles, a truck driver of Washington, Ind. Miss Meier and Taylor were riding in an automobile driven by Tyberend, a grocery clerk here, when it collided with Miles' truck. Tyberend was killed instantly and Miss Meier died in the Breeze hospital. Taylor incurred fractures of the left arm and shoulder and Miles was treated for fracture of the left hip.

Dutch Freighter Off From Chicago Before Netherlands Go to War

Chicago, May 10—(AP)—The Dutch freighter Prins Maurits of the Orange line arrived yesterday, the first ship of European registry to dock in Chicago from the war zone.

A few hours after its departure for East Chicago on the first lap of the return voyage the Netherlands were at war with Germany.

Capt. Willem Kaspers reported an uneventful 43-day voyage from Rotterdam, being delayed only one day at an English contraband station. The freighter carried a cargo of general merchandise.

Ribbentrop Bitter

Not until 8:25 a. m. (1:25 a. m. C. S. T.) did Ribbentrop, pale, sleepless and with a voice husky and deep in bitterness, address the foreign correspondents.

"England and France at last dropped the mask," he declared. "The attack on the Ruhr valley was definitely planned. It was to come via Belgium and Holland."

"This attack was planned with the knowledge and connivance of the Belgian and Dutch governments. Our foe here was not willing to have this important region submitted to new aggression."

"Under Protection"

"The foe here, therefore has decided to take the neutrality of Belgium and Holland under his protection."

"Germany now will talk only the language which the English and French governments seem to understand, and settle scores once and for all with them," Von Ribbentrop declared.

The foreign minister then read the text of the memorandum to the three governments which began with the reiteration of the German standpoint that "the main object of the British and French is to extend the war to other countries."

The news distributed by Britain and France of impending action in the Balkans was a blind, the memorandum said, to mislead Germany.

"In reality, the ostensible shifting of the Anglo-French war policy to the Mediterranean was only a large scale maneuver to divert attention to deceive Germany as to the actual scope of the next Anglo-French attack."

Pittman Sees Need of Watching Orient Events

Washington, May 10—(AP)—Chairman Pittman (D-Ne) of the senate foreign relations committee asserted today that the German invasion of the Netherlands and Belgium had given the United States renewed cause to watch for developments in the Orient.

Observing that the Nazi invasion of the low countries was "not unexpected," Pittman commented:

"It again demonstrates that totalitarian powers are unrestrained by any precepts of divine or human law. Absolute obedience to a single commander undoubtedly makes for the greatest expedition and efficiency in war, which it is difficult to obtain under a democracy."

"Our government has cause to watch developments in the Orient."

Bench Warrants Out for Five Alleged Reds

Washington, May 10—(AP)—Bench warrants for five alleged communists, charged with contempt of a House committee in refusing to answer questions posed them in the Dies committee investigation of un-American activities, were sent to their home jurisdictions today.

The warrants, designed to aid in bringing the men to Washington for arraignment, were sent as follows:

To Boston, for the arrest of Philip Frankfield and Thomas F. P. O'Dea; to Pittsburgh for the arrest of George Powers and James H. Dolson; and to Baltimore for the arrest of Dr. Albert Blumberg.

Speedy Increase in U. S. Defenses is Demanded

Washington, May 10—(AP)—The spread of the European war into Belgium and Holland brought prompt demands in congress today for a speedy increase in America's defense preparations.

Senator Walsh (D-Mass) predicted that the war would engulf "all of Europe" and called for "redoubled efforts to strengthen our defenses at every point."

gray warships which have severed his sea-borne supplies.

The German strategy involved in today's onslaught is this:

1. To secure air bases in Holland and Belgium from which to make a grand assault on that blockade and allied shipping in general.

2. To bring the German bases nearer to England for intensification of the aerial warfare against the island kingdom.

3. To turn the left wing of the allied line, which rests on the coast on the Franco-Belgian frontier.

A great deal depends on what resistance the Dutch and Belgians can offer the Germans during these early hours of attack. If the nazis are able to make a quick conquest and consolidate the positions before the allies can give substantial aid to the low countries, then it will be exceedingly difficult to dislodge the invaders.

Speedy Increase in U. S. Defenses is Demanded

Washington, May 10—(AP)—The spread of the European war into Belgium and Holland brought prompt demands in congress today for a speedy increase in America's defense preparations.

A secret session of the house was advocated by Rep. Ferguson (D-Okla) at which, he said, Secretaries Woodring and Edison could tell congress of the exact state of the nation's military and naval defenses.

Willemstad, Netherlands West Indies, May 10—(AP)—Attempts of the crews of three German vessels to burn or scuttle their ships here were frustrated today and one German who resisted Netherlands authorities was reported killed.

Soon after word was received that Germany and Holland were at war, the Patricia and Alemania were set afire by their crews, but quick action by firefighters controlled the flames.

Sea cocks were opened by the crew on the Henry Horn but the authorities closed them. The vessel was left listing.

Other German vessels in the harbor were safe. German crews were picked up and sent to Bonaire.

Anniversary Gift for University of Chicago Planned

The broadening of American educational opportunity and the striking development of basic research by American universities, symbolized in the brief, fifty-year history of a single educational institution, was emphasized today in an interview by Miss Agatha L. Tosney, chairman of the recently formed Dixon committee of the Alumni Foundation of the University of Chicago. Miss Tosney, a graduate of the university, is employed in the auditing department of the Illinois Northern Utilities.

The University of Chicago celebrates its fiftieth anniversary in 1941, and the aim of the National Foundation is to present an Anniversary Gift on this occasion. This fund is needed to maintain the position of the university, as the rate of return on endowment, the principal source of support has declined thirty-five per cent, Miss Tosney pointed out.

The University of Chicago was the first university in the middle west and the third in the country to sponsor research as a primary activity. Pioneer achievements by the university in teaching theory and practice also have received nationwide acceptance, including the "Chicago Plan" of undergraduate education put into effect by President Robert M. Hutchins in 1931.

Four research projects at the university which have been honored by the award of the Nobel prize were also cited: the physics discoveries on the Chicago quadrangles by Professors A. A. Michelson, Robert A. Millikan, and Arthur H. Compton, and surgical research at Chicago by Dr. Alexis Carrel.

"The university has instructed more than 190,000 persons so successfully that one in every sixteen persons listed in "Who's Who" is a former Chicago student.

"The University of Chicago has filled the need of America's decentralized and fast-growing educational system for a leader because of its location, the tradition of pioneering, its record of achievements and its financial independence.

"The decentralization of American education is one cause of its success, because decentralization means freedom from central control. But it also means that this enormous, loose-knit educational system looks to the great endowed universities for guidance. Chicago and a few other endowed universities have exerted a profoundly beneficial influence on the elementary and secondary schools of America.

"America has had such faith in education that it has built the most comprehensive system of schools and universities the world has ever seen," Miss Tosney said. "Education and research, whatever their shortcomings, are mankind's chief hope for a better world."

IN CARS

Mount Vernon, Wash. —(AP)—Late for work, Bernis Yenter decided he would dress while driving to his office.

He got his shirt and socks on successfully but when he tried to pull on his shoes he lost control of the car.

It ran into a field, over-turned and was demolished. Yenter unhurt promised state patrolmen he "wouldn't use a car for a dressing room again."

AT WORK

Butte Mont. —(AP)—Embarrassing no end, was the situation in which two Butte second-story men found themselves.

While they were at work on the second floor of an abandoned home, looting it of plumbing fixtures, a couple of other thieves dismantled the staircase and carried it away.

It left the s. s. men no alternative but to hop out of the s. s. window.

IN MARRYING

Tipton, Ind. —(AP)—County Clerk John McNeal was ready to put his seal on a marriage license application he had just made out, when the would-be bridegroom asked: "Will this come out in the paper?"

McNeal said it probably would. The couple, without taking the license, turned and walked out.

IN THINKING

Three Rivers, Mich. —(AP)—The City Club of Three Rivers wants the local fire whistle to sound twice—once when the fire starts and then later on when it's out. Too many citizens, they claim, do a lot of needless worrying after the initial alarm.

"They always used to toot the whistle at least once—and sometimes they'd give it a couple of toots—to show the blaze was extinguished, and there was no further need for worry," explained L. S. Dooley, a merchant.

"Now you go along for hours after the alarm is sounded, figuring that the town may be burning down."

IN EXPECTATION

Houston, Tex. —(AP)—A man was arrested for shop-lifting. Twenty minutes later he had been charged, convicted, sentenced and was in the rowdy wagon on his way to the city farm to serve out his $50 fine.

"I wanted speedy justice and got it," he remarked ruefully.

AT FIRES

Kipp, Kans. —(AP)—"Twas a strange spectacle the volunteer fire ladders made as they rushed the furnishings from the blazing home of A. W. Sungren, near here. Out they came carrying the heating stove, a fire blazing cheerily in it.

IN ACCIDENTS

Helena, Mont. —(AP)—"I was standing on a corner, a door came along and knocked me cold." That's a Butte man's story of how he got a black eye—and he's sticking to it.

He was on the curb, waiting to cross an intersection, when a car came along. A door flew open and the handle struck him and knocked him into a sign-post.

A doctor, who vouches for the story, was called to revive him.

IN EATING

Abilene, Kans. —(AP)—A waiter claims this is what members of a grade school basketball team ate for lunch just before they participated in a tournament: hamburgers, meat sandwiches, baked beans, ice cream and soda pop.

FASCINATING FACTS about men's clothing

YEARS AGO ALL SUITS WERE TAILOR-MADE, READY-TO-WEAR SUITS WERE FIRST MADE FOR SAILORS, WHO WEREN'T IN PORT LONG ENOUGH TO BE FITTED BY A TAILOR

DETACHABLE COLLARS WERE INVENTED BY A BLACKSMITH'S WIFE SO SHE COULD WASH HIS COLLARS WITHOUT WASHING THE WHOLE SHIRT.

PLUMES WERE WORN ON THE LEFT SO THEY WOULD NOT INTERFERE WITH DUELING. HENCE THE BOW ON A MAN'S HAT BAND IS STILL WORN ON THE LEFT.

GRANDFATHER BUTTONED HIS SHIRT DOWN THE BACK THEN ADDED CUFFS, CUFFLINKS, COLLAR, COLLAR-BUTTONS, AND STUDS. COMPARE THIS WITH TODAY'S COMFORTABLE SHIRTS

Another fascinating fact is—you can shop here with the full assurance that our stock offers complete selections of latest styles in men's wear at prices you can afford to pay.

DIXON, ILLINOIS

G. O. P. Convention Will Be Held in Capital June 14

Springfield, Ill., May 10 —(AP)—The date of the Republican state convention had been shifted today to June 14.

The GOP state committee chose the new date in its organization meeting yesterday after electing Ben L. Berve of Rochelle as state chairman. The meeting, previously planned for June 7, was changed because of a conflict over leasing the state armory here.

Chairman Berve said he would proceed immediately to complete the organization of a statewide committee of prominent Republicans who will make a pre-convention outline of the party state platform for the fall campaign.

By next week, Berve said, he expected to have appointed the platform committee chairman so the group of over fifty platform drafters could assemble and start work.

A. K. Styles of Sycamore, retiring state chairman, presented Berve's name in nomination under the harmony program that prevailed at yesterday's organization session. In addition to Berve, new GOP state officers are John F. Tyrrell, Chicago, first vice chairman; Clement A. Nance, Chicago, secretary, and Fred B. Herbert, Murphysboro, second vice chairman.

The only break in the harmony program came when Tyrrell introduced a resolution commending National Committeeman Hill Blackett of Chicago. Henry H. Harris, Chicago committee member, protested against an "endorsement" of Blackett for reelection but the committee adopted the resolution when Tyrrell claimed that it was intended as such an endorsement.

The national committeeman for the next four years will be elected by the Illinois delegation to the national convention in Philadelphia.

Grand Canyon of the Colorado river, as it flows through Arizona, is five to six miles wide at the top, and in some places 5,000 to 6,000 feet in depth.
